Error sorting lists

Overview:

A common issue many users come upon is receiving a error when trying to sort lists by column headers.

Cause:

Most often the cause of this is simply there is to much information showing at one time for the program to try and sort and reorder.

Solution:

Since the problem is the amount of information displayed the best solution is cutting down on that information. Remove unnecessary columns or limit the records per page down to 100.