Google Authenticator - New Two-Factor Authentication

Changes to Two-Factor Authentication

In release version 1.033 we changed the two-factor authentication from emails and text messages to the Google Authenticator. This provides Order Time Inventory with top of the line security which will take us into the future of online apps.

One of the best ways to protect your account is to have an extra form of verification in place. Two-factor authentication helps keep out anyone who shouldn't have access to your account by requiring a second step after you enter your password.

Example of the new Two Factor Authentication Screen

TWO FACTOR AUTHENTICATION

Scan QR code

Manual setup code GU2TCMRWGQ3DGMBQ

Authentication code

☐ Check to remember this device so that you won't be asked for 2FA every time, but we will ask every so often.

SUBMIT

What is Two-Factor Authentication?

Two-Factor Authentication provides another element of security while logging in to verify that the only person able to actually gain access to the account is you, regardless of whether someone else knows the credentials or not. More information can be found here.

Download the Google Authenticator on your smart phone, then scan the QR Code or enter the Manual setup code. When you see the 6 digit number appear (that's the Authentication code) enter it and click SUBMIT.

Download on the App Store   GET IT ON Google Play

We also added a new setting under the Company Info that allows the Master Admin to make 2FA required for all users in your company.

Download Google Authenticator